To find the Holy Grail Of Success

Those adventures of medieval days, cavalcades of knights, eager to overcome the foe, proceeding into battle for their king or to uphold the honor of the ladies whom they had chosen to serve--are well-remembered by all who have read even a little about those tumultuous times.

We Seniors believe that our school days here at Lincoln are a very important part of our cavalcade of today. We remember Sir Galahad and Sir Perceval of King Arthur's Round Table, and their quest for the Holy Grail, the cup used by Christ at the Last Supper, and we know that only those chaste in thought, word, and act could approach it. So now we feel that we, also, are searching for the Holy Grail, but in our case, the Holy Grail would signify success, success that must be achieved by perservance, honesty, initiative, and faith.

After you have looked through the CAVALCADE, we hope that you, also, will feel that we are on our way to success--our Holy Grail--and that you will deem the CAVALCADE a memory book from which you may obtain much pleasure now as well as years later.

Dedication

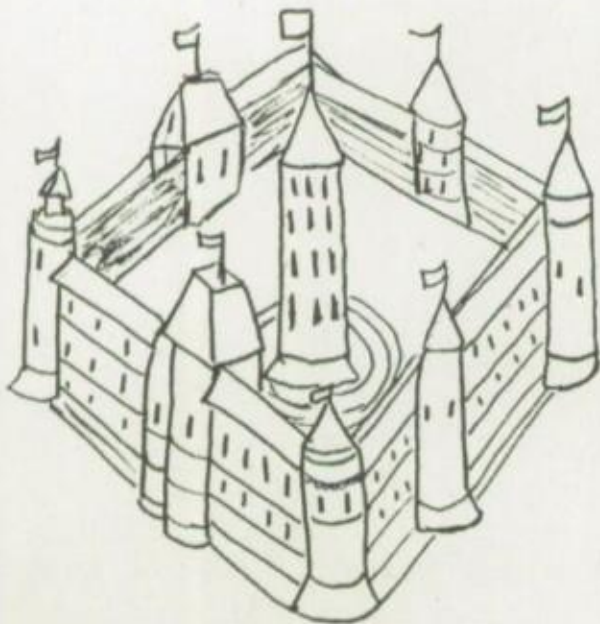

His "sermonettes," his interesting classes, his sincere interest in the welfare of every student at Lincoln, his unfailing humor and good nature, are only a few of the innumerable qualities that cause us to know that Mr. Simpson has helped us travel this part of our Cavalcade of life at Lincoln High with confidence that we may attain the Holy Grail of Success.

Therefore, we, the Senior Class of Lincoln High School, with sincere pleasure, dedicate the 1953 volume of the CAVALCADE to our King Arthur, Professor J. Lupton Simpson.

CLOCKWISE, beginning at the upper right-hand corner: Mrs. Guilford Welsh, Mr. Guilford Welsh, Mrs. Robert Bragg, Mrs. Alice Whitley, Miss Louise Whitman, Mr. John Terminella, Miss Anna Swortzel, Miss Katharine Bridges, Mrs. Barbara Dillon, Mr. Donald Linn, Miss Bessie Connor, Mrs. Theodore Reid, Mrs. Clayton Kephart.

Senior Class Officers

Those leading our procession are our class officers.
 They have kept us moving at a steady pace.
 With their aid and assistance we have accomplished our tasks and surmounted our difficulties with a feeling of pride and honor.
 May we present our class officers.

Senior Class History

1948-'49

A new phase of life began the fall of '49 for us as eighth graders. We were, after formal and informal initiation, ready to settle down, now part of Lincoln and willing to take our stand and work hard for the coming years. Childhood now over, a new life began.

1949-'50

The year of 1949-'50 arrived and we felt like real natives of Lincoln. Our class decreased by a few, but the remaining were staunch in making plans for a budding class. Frankie Fields led us this year.

1950-'51

The in-between year for our class now began. We were represented in different clubs of the school by having officers chosen from our class. We now looked ahead for the coming years which would bring prom plans, rings, and the long-awaited graduation day.

1951-'52

The year of excitement began by electing Irene Fleming as president. We worked hard for the prom-raising money and planning for a glorious evening. The arrival of our rings sent a wave of animation through the school. Our pride and joy! We now felt we were a little more mature and ready for the coming senior year.

1952-'53

Now, as Seniors, we realized our responsibilities and took them in our stride. Our class felt the closeness brought on by working with the annual and discussing our future plans. Barbara Cooper led us as class president toward our fulfillment as seniors. Graduation nearing, we became more sober as we idealized our coming obligations. We look forward to our future with open eyes and minds, hoping our accomplishments will soar and reward us.

Last Will & Testament

We, the Senior Squires of the Knights (teachers) of Lincoln High School, having been appointed to these positions of honor by King Arthur (Mr. Simpson), and having also been declared by him to be of sound mind, do deem it expedient to constitute this last will and testament, having participated in innumerable battles (lessons) for our Knights and our King, and being destitute of the knowledge as to when these battles shall deprive us of our life (having a good time) do hereby give, bequeath, and devise the following:

First: We will and bequeath to the underclassmen all our swords (desks), shields (unclaimed books), and other weapons with which we have achieved many awards and victories.

Second: We bequeath our argumentative ability to the Juniors, provided, of course, they have the material.

Third: The individuals have certain personal things to (sob) leave behind.

Klaus Balzer leaves his pleasing accent to Ruby Schooley.

Lin Blocker leaves his name as advice to the football team--"Block 'er!"

Elmer Carter leaves his ability to loaf in class to Robert Clark.

Jimmy Coleman leaves his neat handwriting to Crane Hertz.

Arthur Core says almost anyone can have his job of holding up traffic with cows.

Frankie Fields leaves his crew cut to Jimmy Peyton.

Cleveland Lanham leaves his loud and boisterous manner to Bobby Payne.

Blake Marcus leaves his love of books to Robert Florance.

Fenton Piggott leaves his debating ability to Patrick Henry Adams.

Dickie Potts leaves Berryville to Bobby Jones.

Linwood Reid leaves his position as tackle on the football team to Donald Dawson.

Lee Rodgers leaves his ability to get along with the teachers to William Bayles.

Bob Waugerman leaves his smile to Jane Lynn Echols.

Marvin Wharton leaves indifference to school in general to Pete Gray.

Tommy Wynkoop leaves his list of phone numbers to Charles Allison.

Melva Athey leaves her pleasing manner to Polly Kitts.

Ann Brown leaves her freckles to Shelby Burke.

Carol Brown leaves her tranquility to Connie Sipe.
Patsy Broy leaves her smile to Mary Ann Locke.
Harriet Caffey leaves her wondering imagination to Tommy Presgraves.
Barbara Cooper leaves her office job to Caroline Hindman.
Sylvia Crooker leaves her success as a vocalist to Maurice Anderson.
Laura Belle Dawson leaves her ability to draw to Billy Carbaugh.
Junie and Kitty Dwyer leave their sisterly disputes to a brother-and-sister team,
Mary Alice and Ralph Windle.

Jennie Lou Echols leaves her mania for driving to Violet Wiley.
Betty Jean Fleming leaves a neat physics manual to Billy Lanham.
Irene Fleming leaves her skating enthusiasm to Juanita Ransbottom.
Dorothy Fox leaves a dustless library to the new library assistants.
Charlotte Geiman leaves one slightly used pair of basketball shoes to Barbara Graham.

Anne Grille leaves her unshakeable poise to Phyllis Tribby.
Shirley Hall wills the ability to pay attention to Robert Jewell.
Adele Hawthorne leaves her hard-won blue ribbons to Christine Stefferud.
Barbara Irwin leaves her Irish wit to future humor editors of the Lincolnite.
Marjorie Kephart leaves her soft voice to Betty Poston who should use it after her cheerleading job.

Ellen Kirby leaves her silly giggle to Mary Frances Brown.
Betty Lanham leaves her industrious attitude to Paul Reed.
Barbara Parks leaves Mrs. Whitley clean blackboards.
Sheila Payne leaves her A's to Jimmy Simpson who, of course, has no use for them.

Marjorie Pierson leaves her desk in the back of the room to Mark Kinnaman.
Charlotte Seace leaves her nice handwriting to Bill Thomas.
Bernice Sunday leaves her infectious giggle to Linda Lowry.
Hattie Tomblin leaves her skill in basketball to Betty Piggott.
Betty Tribby leaves her collection of empty shorthand notebooks to Barbara Greer.
Flossie Walters leaves her old Literature book to Jimmy Smith.
Mary Wolverton leaves her deep voice to Janie Cooper.
Jean Woodward leaves her freckles to Sue Ann Wenner.

We here affix our seal, this the third day of June, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Three.

(Signed) King Arthur

Prophecy

My name is Sir Lancelot of the Knights of the Round Table. I am what I suppose you would consider a ghost for you cannot see me. When those '53 Seniors at Lincoln studied the medieval period in English Literature and were so interested in King Arthur, I saw that they were an extraordinary class and have been interested in their activities ever since.

(You might wonder where that Old English speech is--Well, who could keep that accent and speech after being around those Lincoln Seniors for as long as I have?)

Fifteen short years ago, in 1953, I attended their commencement at Lincoln. Now they are scattered over various parts of the country, so touch my armor in order to be able to follow me, and we shall go on a journey.

There's ELMER CARTER'S farm. He raises Aberdeen-Angus cattle and is a very prominent farmer in Virginia.

Now we are coming to Washington. There's KLAUS BALZER on his way to the embassy. He's the new ambassador to the United States from Germany.

See that huge restaurant over there? ARTHUR CORE and BLAKELEY MARCUS own it and serve excellent meals.

Here's the Capitol. Listen to that confusion. Representatives CLEVELAND LANHAM and FENTON PIGGOTT have just introduced a startling new bill.

There's the Pentagon where CAROL BROWN holds an important position as secretary to the Chief of Staff of the Army.

That's Constitution Hall. SYLVIA CROOKER, the famous young soprano, is giving a concert there. Just listen to that ovation! The talented young pianist accompanying her is SHEILA PAYNE.

Let's leave Washington and go southward. There's V. P. I. DICKIE POTTS is an instructor there. He's very well-liked by his students.

Do you see that service station with all the large cars in front of it? That's BOB WAUGERMAN'S. He really has a fine business.

Now we're in Kentucky. See those fine-looking horses in that field? ADELE HAWTHORNE trains them. She really does a fine job--I know.

Here we are in Sarasota, Florida. That's JEAN WOODWARD over there. She has a seal act with the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Aren't those two estates vast? CHARLOTTE SEACE and her husband own one and PATSY BROY and her husband own the other. There're Charlotte and Patsy now, talking over old times.

We're on our way westward now. Here's New Orleans. FLOSSIE WALTERS teaches home economics in that large school. Over 2500 students go there.

Let's go to Texas next. MARY WOLVERTON is secretary to that big construction firm. There's MARGORIE PIERSON. She owns that modern hotel. Shall we stop and rest a bit?

That's the First National Bank where LIN BLOCKER is president. See him working?

Now we're in California. There's BERNICE SUNDAY. She designs bathing suits. They're very popular these days.

Look at that girl on the tennis court. Why it's ELLEN KIRBY preparing to compete in the national tennis finals.

Do you recognize those two nurses entering the new Washington Hospital? They're BETTY JEAN FLEMING and CHARLOTTE GEIMAN.

That's Warner Brothers' Studios. DOROTHY FOX is secretary to the president there.

Let's attend this television program. It's JENNIE LOU ECHOLS on her own show, "Jennie Lou's Forum." TOMMY WYNKOOP is appearing with Jennie Lou today. He's the comedian that critics say is the best since Milton Berle.

There's ANN BROWN in that radio station. She plays the star role as a southern belle in the radio serial, "Belle of 1858."

BARBARA COOPER is teaching at that elementary school over there. She has the first grade and is helping greatly to get pupils started off correctly.

Let's leave California now and go to Utah. RAY BLEVINS, D. D. S., has his offices in Salt Lake City. There they are, and look! JIMMY COLEMAN, the prominent automobile salesman, is his patient now. Dr. Blevins, however, doesn't seem to be causing him any pain.

That lady on the street is SHIRLEY HALL. She designs much of today's modern furniture. KITTY and JUNIE DWYER, who established a girls' school in Nebraska, are talking with her.

MARJORIE KEPHART is a very prominent novelist who is working on her new book "The Open Door." There she is, coming from her publisher's.

Let's take this bus. It's one of MARVIN WHARTON'S. He owns the "Continental Bus Lines." Look over there in those seats. There're LINWOOD REID and LEE RODGERS. Linwood is the dynamic basketball star who is in the headlines a good deal these days. Lee is president of the newly established Grant College--Too bad we're invisible and they can't see us.

Here's Indiana. That's MELVA ATHEY getting out of her car. She owns a well-known beauty shop. IRENE FLEMING, who is a noted fashion expert, is coming to confer with her.

That's LAURA BELLE DAWSON. She has a comic strip in a national newspaper. She's talking with BARBARA IRWIN, the well-known professional skater, who is currently with "Skate Follies of 1968."

Now we're in Ohio. BETTY TRIBBY over there is talking with HATTIE TOMBLIN. Betty is housekeeping now, and Hattie is author of several popular mystery stories, the latest being The Missing Corpse Murder Case.

Now, here's New York. That's the New York Times. FRANKIE FIELDS is the editor. He's increasing the circulation every day.

HARRIET CAFFEY, ANNE GRILLE, and BARBARA PARKS are lunching together. Harriet's a model for the famous model agency, "Jewells'." Anne is writing popular songs. Her latest hit is "For the Moment." Barbara is the noted designer for taller women's fashions.

Well, that's the '53 Senior Class of Lincoln in 1969. Hope you enjoyed your trip with me.

Class Poem

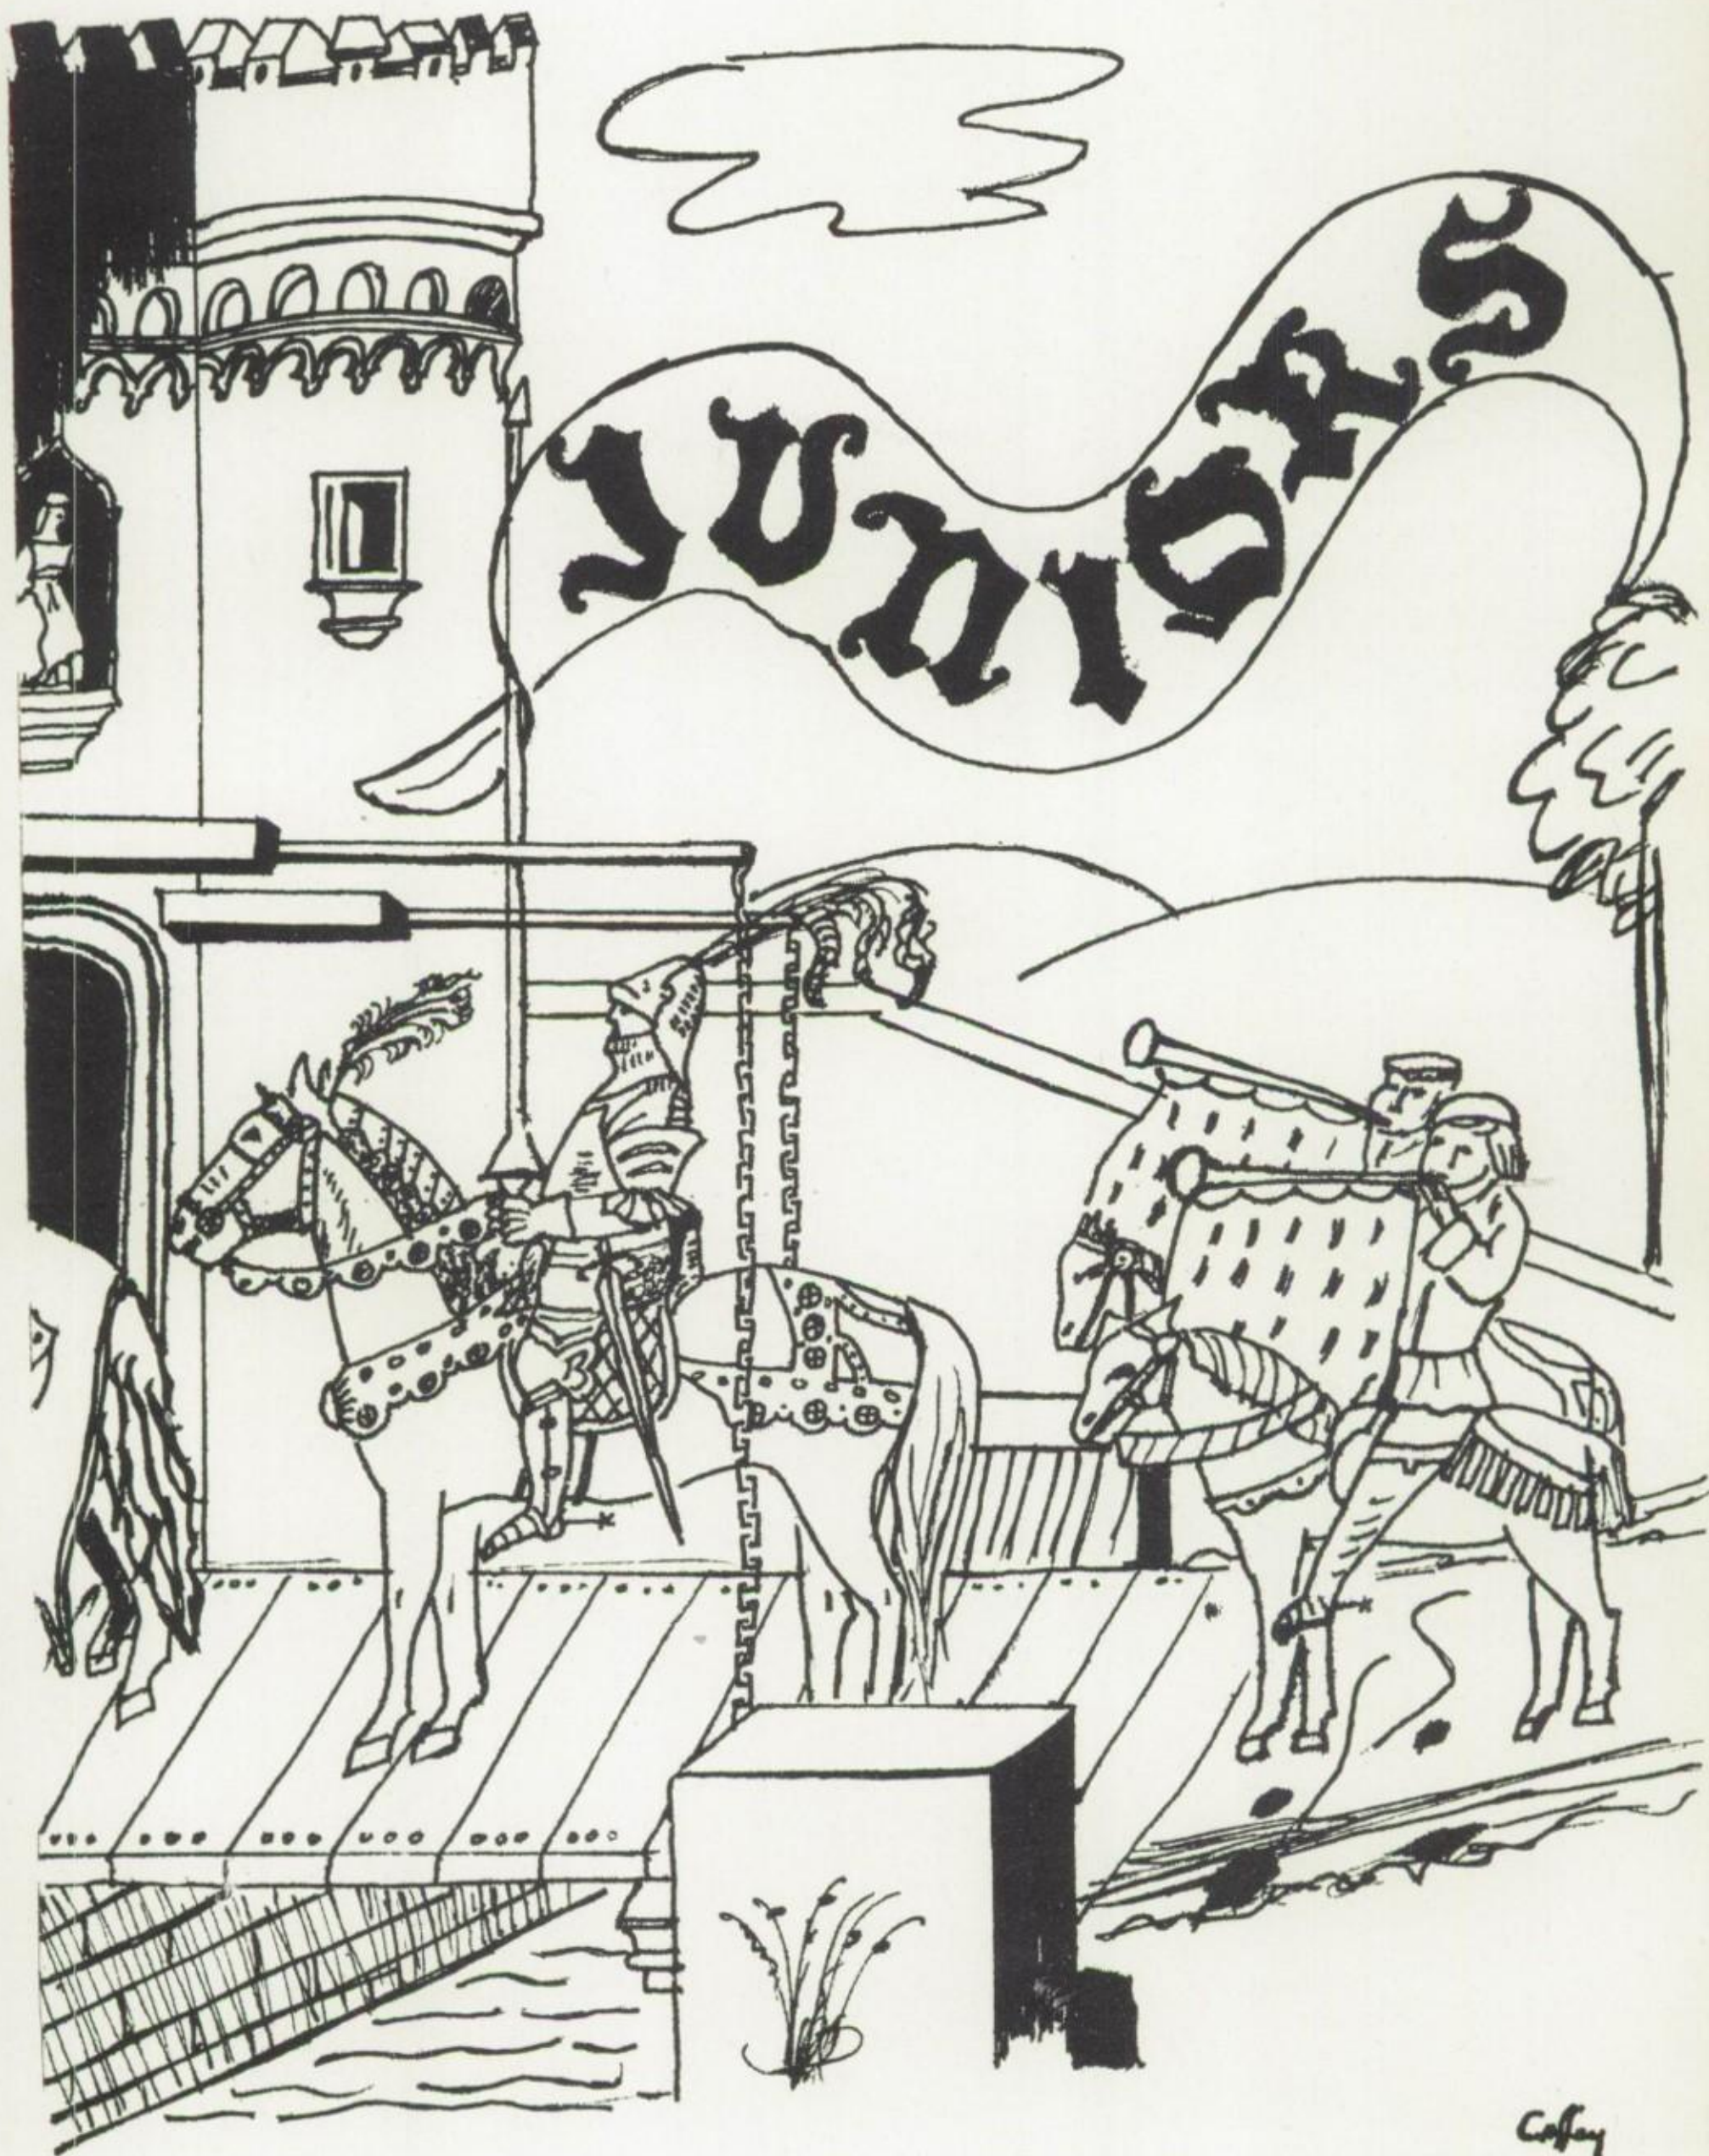

THE END OF OUR SCHOOL DAYS

A wonderful place dear old Lincoln High seems
When you start your scholastic career;
Your mind with the wildest imaginings teems,
And you build up a castle of fanciful dreams
Of the fun in your final year.
But somehow the pleasures have faded in air
When, after long waiting, you find yourself there.

When later, a freshman in high school, you gaze
On seniors respected and grand,
You listen with envy to their every phrase,
And eagerly longing, you wait for the days
When in their position you'll stand,
But somehow your longing has vanished in air
When, after four seasons, you find yourself there.

So we push onward, and never at rest,
Nor content with our own slender store,
No sooner we reach what we think is best
Then we find it is worthless, and turn to our quest
And eagerly seek something more.
For ever we tire of what falls to our lot,
And battle and struggle for what we have not.

Cavalcade Staff

The CAVALCADE staff asks "What would happen if our yearbook were transported back into the medieval days and King Arthur found it in his castle? Would he be displeased with our using the medieval period, in which he was so prominent for what seems to us a natural illustration for picturing this part of our cavalcade of life?"

The staff, however, soon came to the conclusion that if using his castle, Round Table, knights and ladies, and tournaments would help to make the picture of that very important part of our cavalcade--our school days--clearer and more interesting, he would heartily agree to the theme of the CAVALCADE - Knighthood in medieval times.

Lincolnite Staff

These are the battlescarred Knights and Ladies of the Lincolnite staff. Monthly they gather about the Round Table to produce another issue of the school paper which has been continuously published here since 1936.

While striving to uphold the shining record of achievement of former Knights and Ladies, the Lincolnite staff attempts, first of all, to merit the interest and support of all the students, the faculty, and the alumni.

Library Staff

Office Staff

Beta Club

The young knights and ladies of the Beta Club strive to carry out the vows of knight-hood--"to obey the King; to show mercy to all who ask it; to defend the weak; and for no wordly gain to fight in a wrongful cause." (In carrying out their vows, they obey King Arthur (Mr. Simpson, the sponsor); they give help to failing students; and strive to improve their community and school.)

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y, a coeducational group in which the Hi-Y and Tri-Y have been combined, is the school's newest club. Its aim is to promote better standards of character among our teen-agers.

It is not the largest club at Lincoln, but we feel, with the high standards it boasts, it will soon be an active club.

This year's officers are: Sylvia Crooker, president; Irene Fleming, secretary-treasurer; Connie Sipe, recreation chairman.

Keen Teen Club

The knights and ladies of Lincoln enjoy themselves many times during the year at the dances sponsored by the Keen Teen Club.

This club organized about two years ago to bring together the teen-agers and provide entertainment for them.

The club runs on a non-profit basis and the money made at each dance is used for future get-togethers.

The officers for this year are: Sylvia Crooker, president; Phyllis James, vice-president; Irene Fleming, secretary, and Jennie Lou Echols, treasurer.

The adult advisors are Mrs. Charles James and Mrs. A. C. Echols.

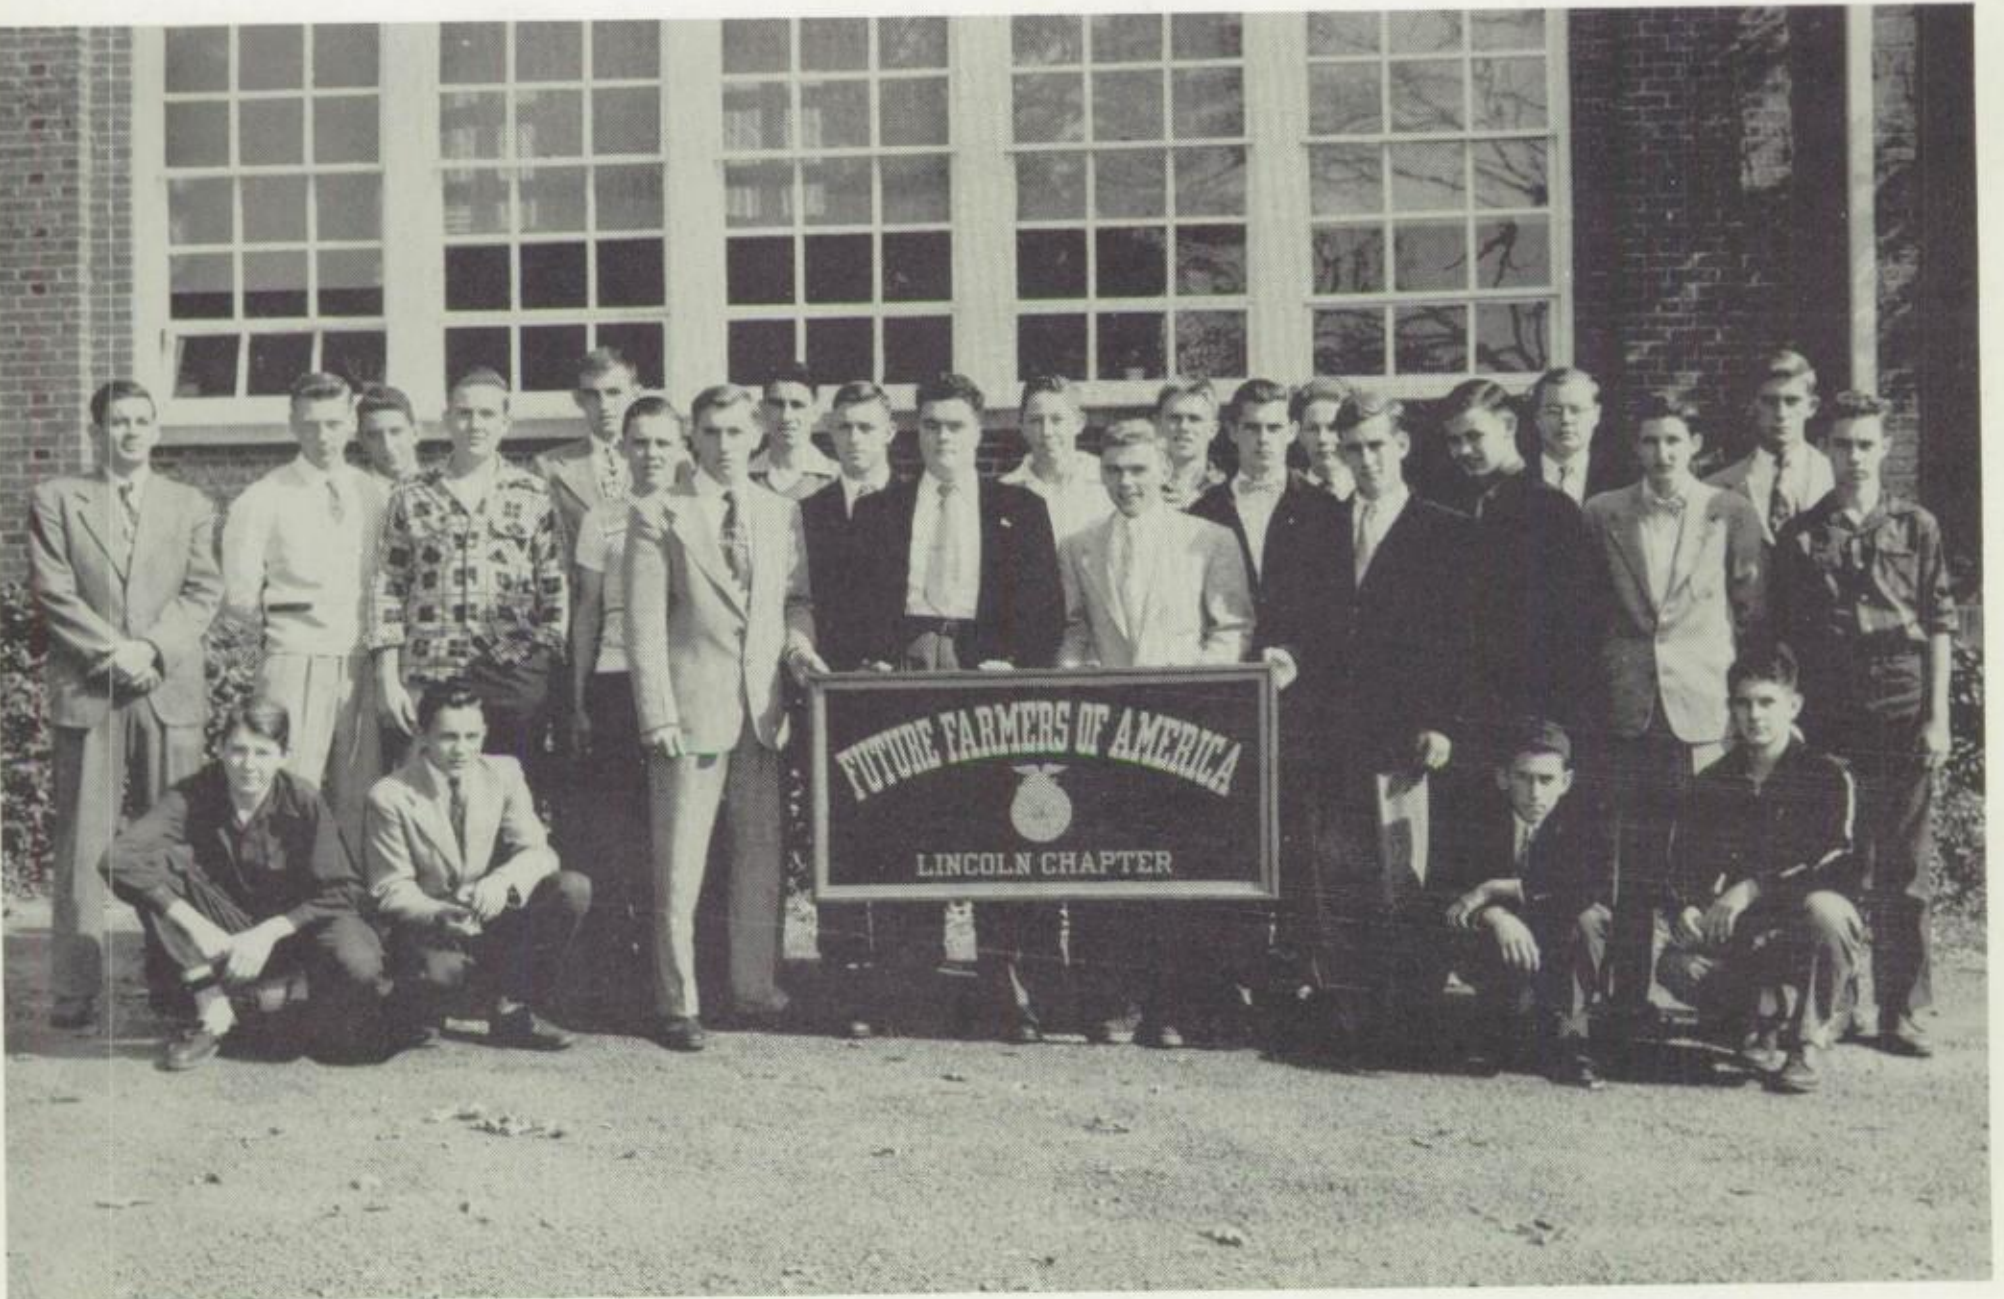

F. H. A.

The Lincoln High School F. H. A. Chapter is a member of the national Future Homemakers of America. It has as its emblem a house supported by the hands of a man and woman. Its motto, "Toward New Horizons," expresses the purpose of learning to live better today in order that their lives and those of their families may be better tomorrow. Their colors, red and white, are symbolic of youth and their flower, the red rose, symbolic of glowing health. Any person who is enrolled in Home-Ec. classes or who has taken Home-Ec. for one year is eligible to be a member of the chapter. During the year the club plans to study parliamentary procedure, send small gifts and cards to Army hospitals and carry on some money-making activities.

The Lincoln Chapter of this always-active organization has proved in past years and this year that it is a driving group of leaders.

They show their worth to Lincoln not only in studying and mastering the many farming skills, and in putting into practice what they learn, but also in performing other duties such as helping the school with odd jobs and giving a Christmas box to a needy family every year.

Judging from this Lincoln Chapter, no one need worry about the quality of Loudoun's future farms.

The officers for 1952-1953 are: Maurice Anderson, president; Billy Lanham, vice-president; Arthur Core, secretary; Lee Rodgers, treasurer; Elmer Carter, reporter; Gayle Potts, conductor; and Robert Florance, sentinel.

The Lincoln Lions

The combination of a light and inexperienced team and the T-formation used at Lincoln for the first time in several years meant few games in the win column for the Lions, but great potentialities for another year. With their new and well-liked coach, Mr. Donald Linn, the Lions completed a memorable year.

The team was complimented in the local papers as being the team showing the greatest improvement during the year.

The Lionesses, coached by Mr. Guilford Welch had a very successful year in basketball. At the end of the season they placed second in their own league and, therefore, were able to enter the tournament held at George Mason High School in Falls Church, Virginia. The girls were defeated by Herndon, but they defeated Occoquan the next day and placed third in the Tournament, being awarded a beautiful trophy.

This year the Lions were coached by Mr. Donald Linn, a new member of the faculty. The Lions tried hard, but due to inexperience and the loss of three veterans from last year, Lincoln's win column was not overcrowded. But next year the Lions will roar on the top.

Our Cheerleaders

The words "Come on everyone, let's cheer!!" are far from strange to us. We know instinctively our cheerleaders are near and trying to keep both the team's and our spirits high.

Whether we are losing or winning, our cheerleaders are always standing by to help us. From the "Victory Cheer" to "Lincoln Locomotive", their voices blend to instill in the spectators a spirit of good sportsmanship.

It's now our turn to give a cheer:

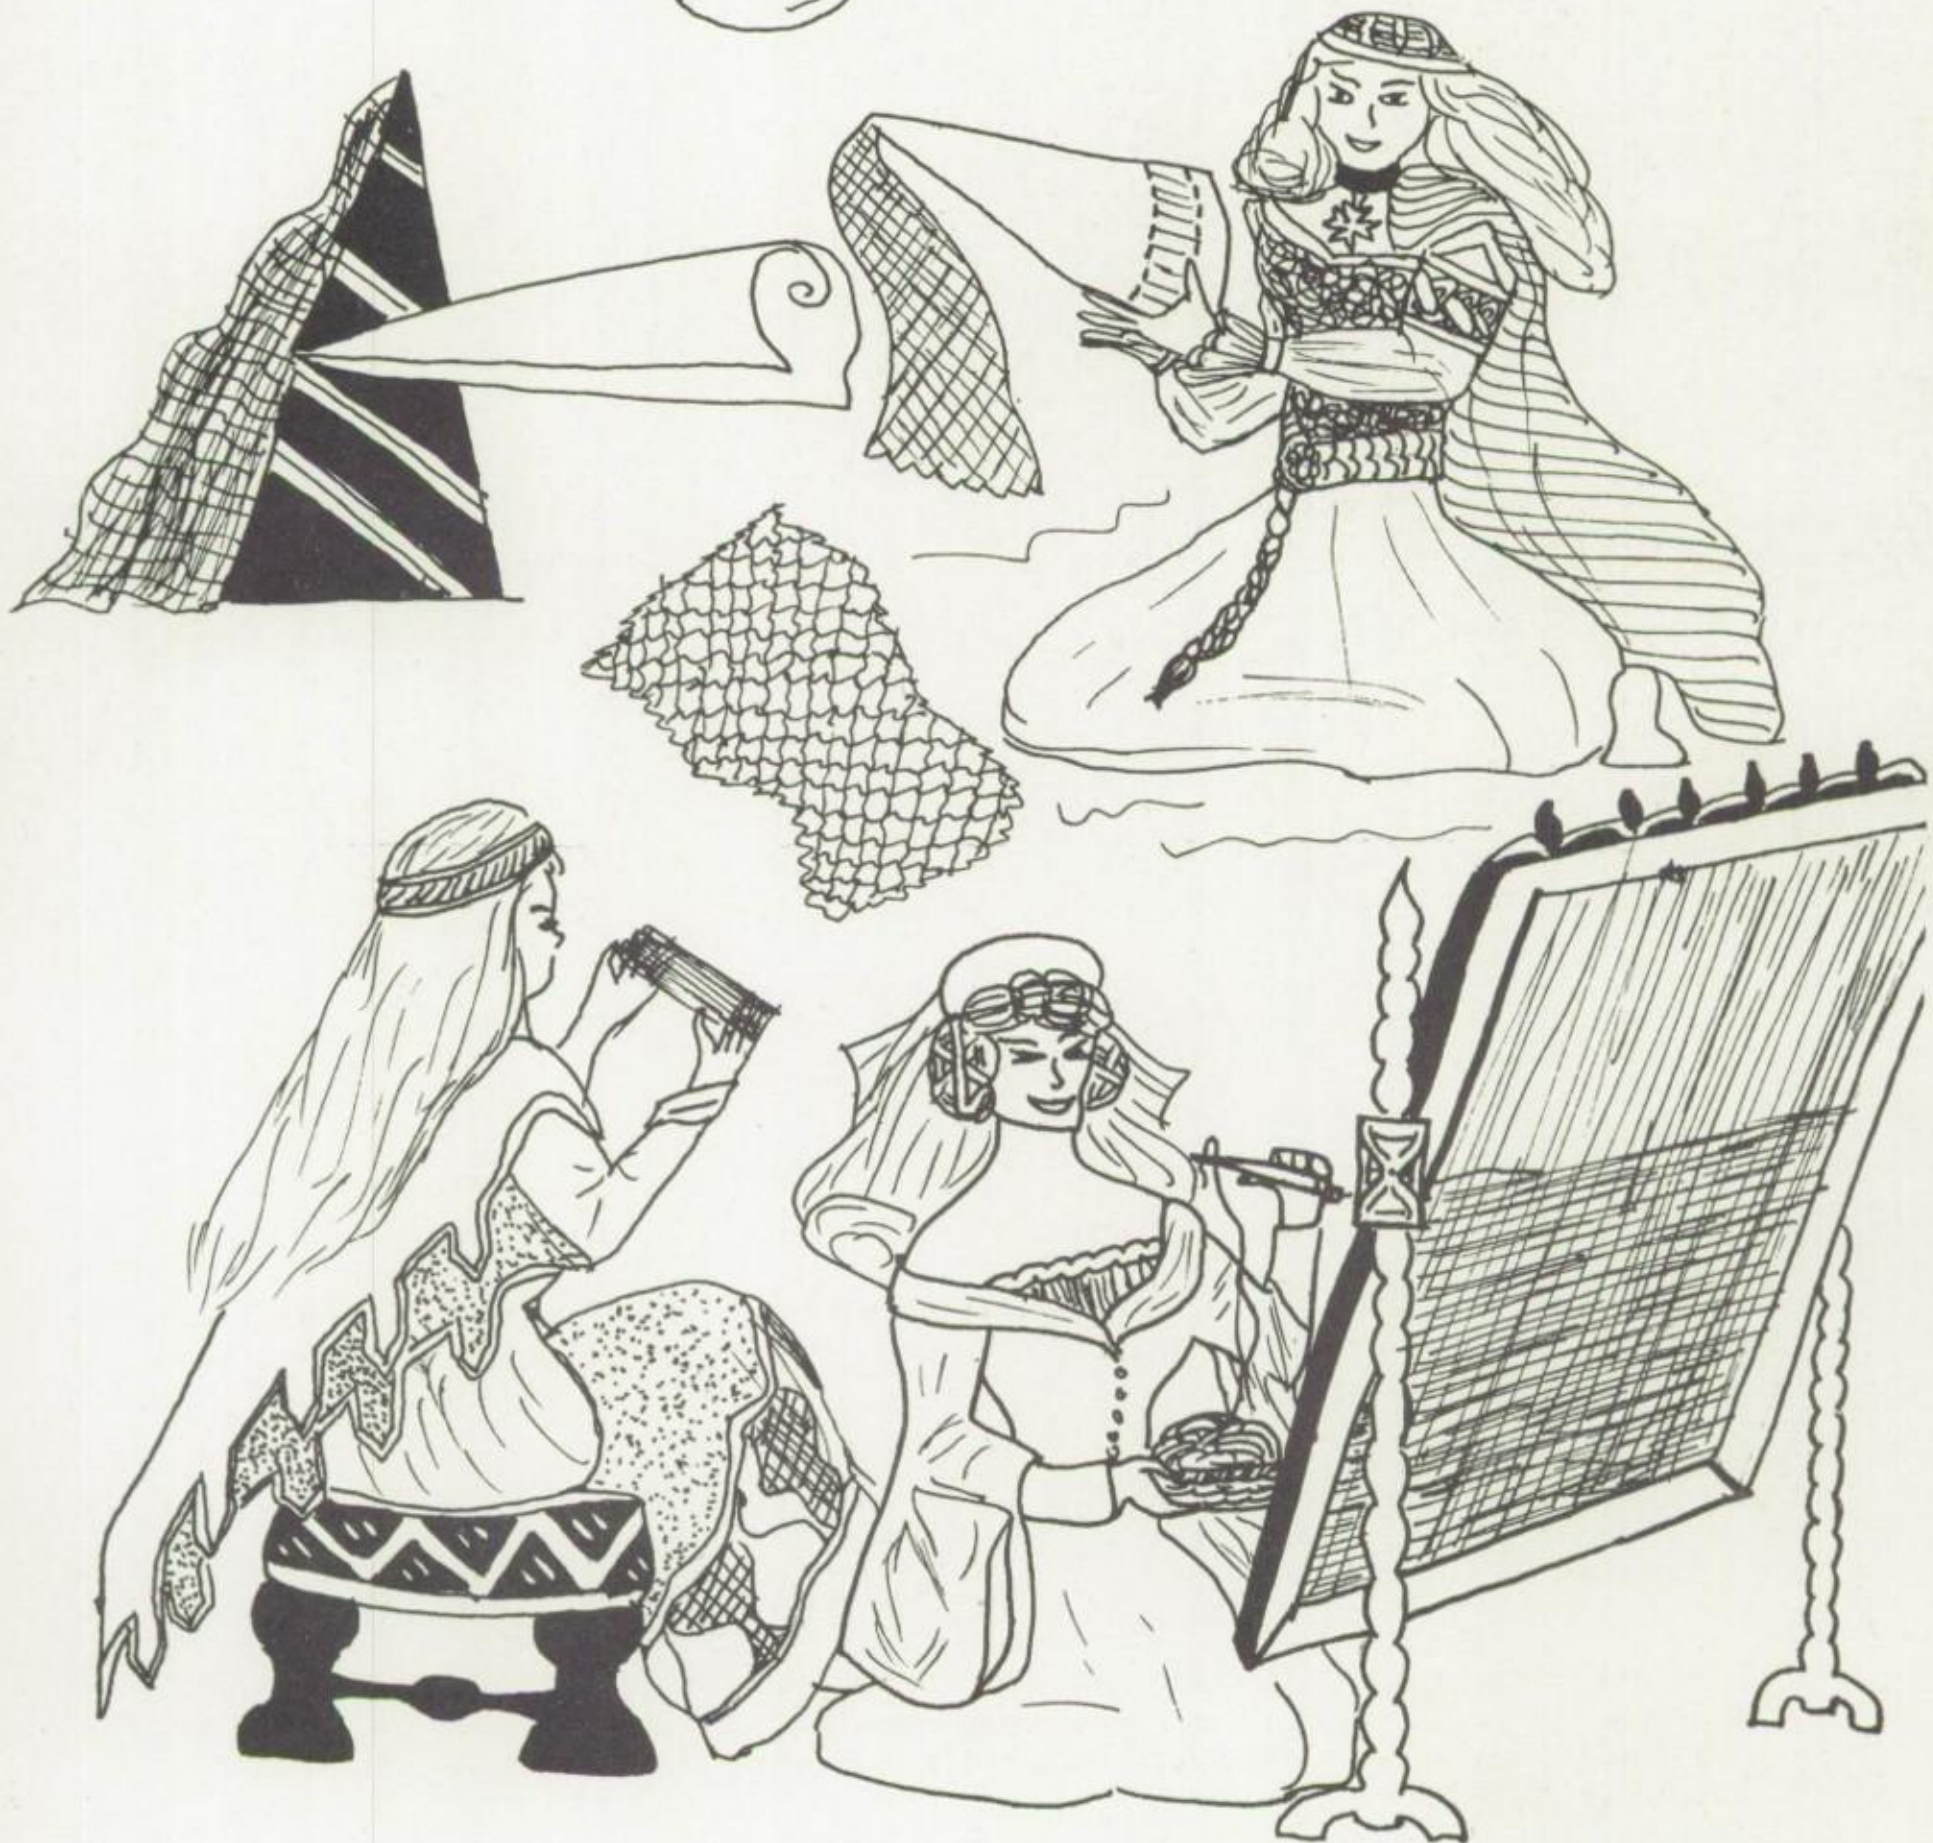

1 - 3 - 5 - 9.

Who do we think is fine?

Cheerleaders, Cheerleaders, yea!

Betty Poston is our oldest cheerleader with a three year record while Jennie Lou Echols and Connie Sipe have been cheering for two years.

The new cheerleaders are Sylvia Crooker, Irene Fleming, Molly Downs, Jean Anderson and Adele Hawthorne.

In Appreciation

Two of King Arthur's most efficient knights here at the "palace" of Lincoln are Mrs. Whitley and Miss Whitman. They have spent many hours at the Round Table working with us, the CAVALCADE staff, in our attempt to portray a small but important part of life's cavalcade--high school days. We realize that without Mrs. Whitley's help with the ads and pictures and Miss Whitman's assistance with the written material the CAVALCADE could not have been published. Therefore, Mrs. Whitley and Miss Whitman, we sincerely say "Thanks!"

We should also like to thank the Lemley Studios for their interest in our undertaking and for their excellent pictures in our yearbook.

Now we heartily thank the Dominion Publishing Company for their aid in printing the CAVALCADE.

Once again, thanks to all of you.

A Post Script

Now you have finished looking through the CAVALCADE. We hope you won't stop here and never examine it again.

Many years from now, when you are comfortably seated in your favorite chair listening to the rain patter on the window pane you might choose to read Tennyson or Chaucer to get ideas about cavalcades. Don't forget Lincoln's 1953 yearbook. It also, portrays a cavalcade-a cavalcade that you took part in, and one that you may recall vividly if you will only turn the pages of the annual of King Arthur and his Knights, the CAVALCADE.
